

KODAK TOURIST

The Kodak Tourists were the last in a long line of American made folding roll film cameras from Eastman Kodak. The Tourist's most unusual feature is its back; through the use of cleverly engineered latches, it can be opened on the left side, right side, or removed completely. The Tourists are well made and feature a die cast aluminum body, covered in black Kodadur, a synthetic leather of remarkable durability.

MADE	USA
PRODUCED	1951 - 58
SOLD FOR	$95
FILM	620
NUMBER OF SHOTS	8